

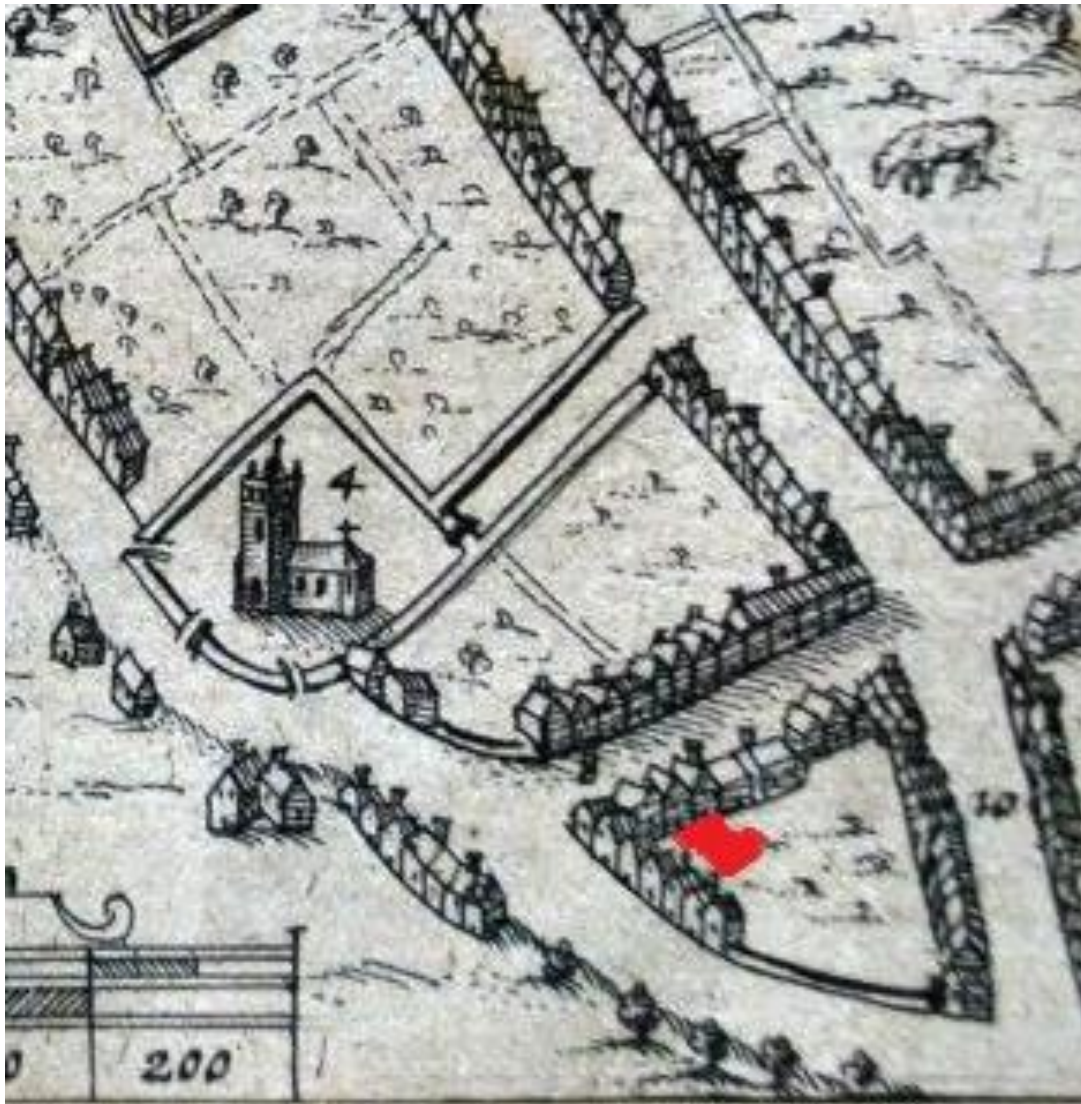

Figure 2: Map of Reading with the approximate location of the current Site highlighted in red. (Map by John Speed, 1611) (image produced with permission from the Berkshire Record Office D/EX2385/1).

Figure 3: Map of Reading with the approximate extent of the current Site highlighted in red (Rocque's map of Berkshire, 1761, Royal Collection Trust).

Figure 4: Map of Reading with the approximate extent of the current Site highlighted in red (John Lovells Map of Reading, circa 1800, John Lovells Ltd)

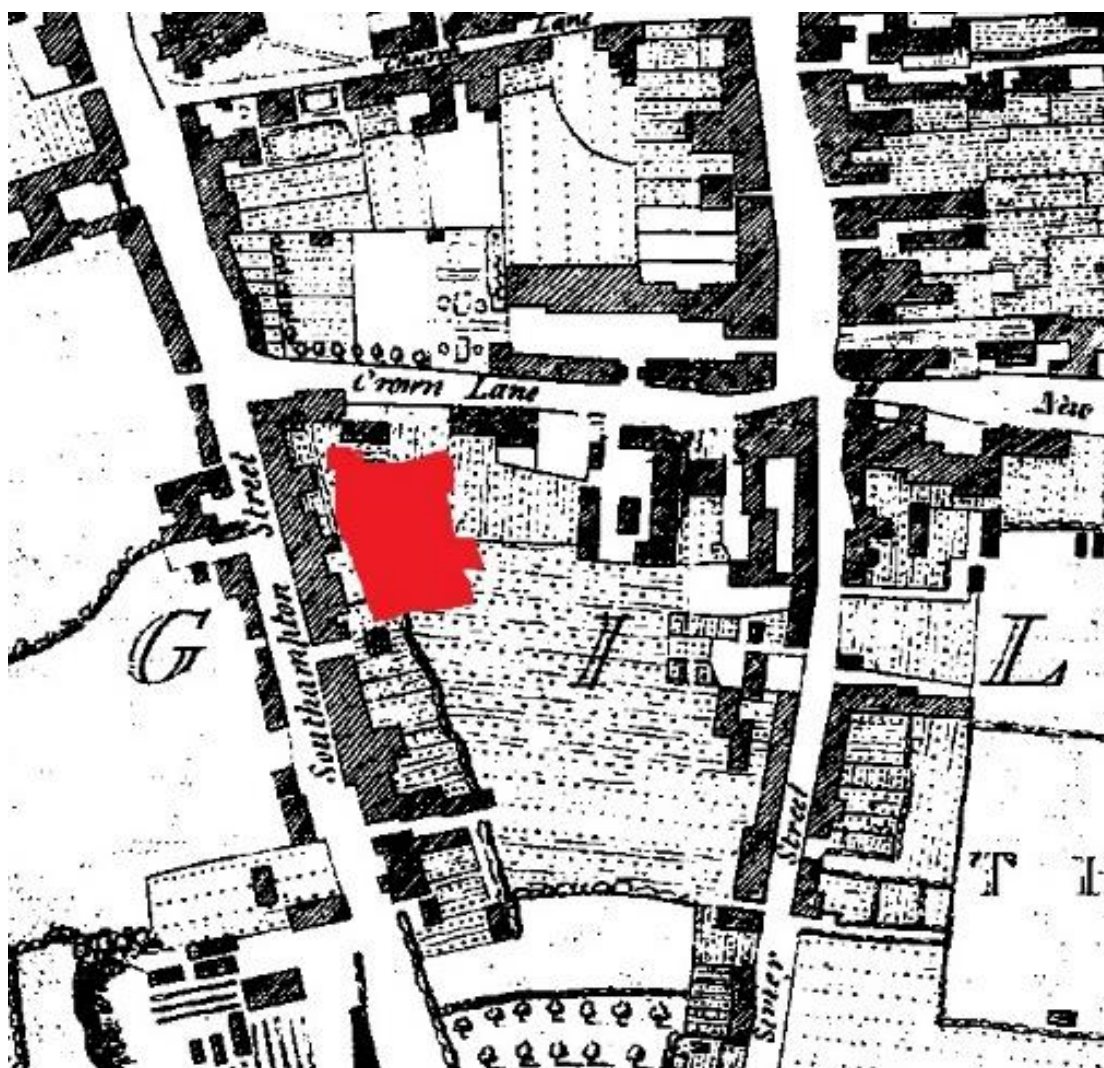

Figure 5: Map of Reading with the approximate extent of the current site highlighted in red (Charles Tomkins, 1802, in The History and Antiquities, Ancient and Modern, of the Borough of Reading, in the County of Berks, by John Man (Reading, 1816)) (image produced with permission from the Berkshire Record Office D/EX2329/3/6)

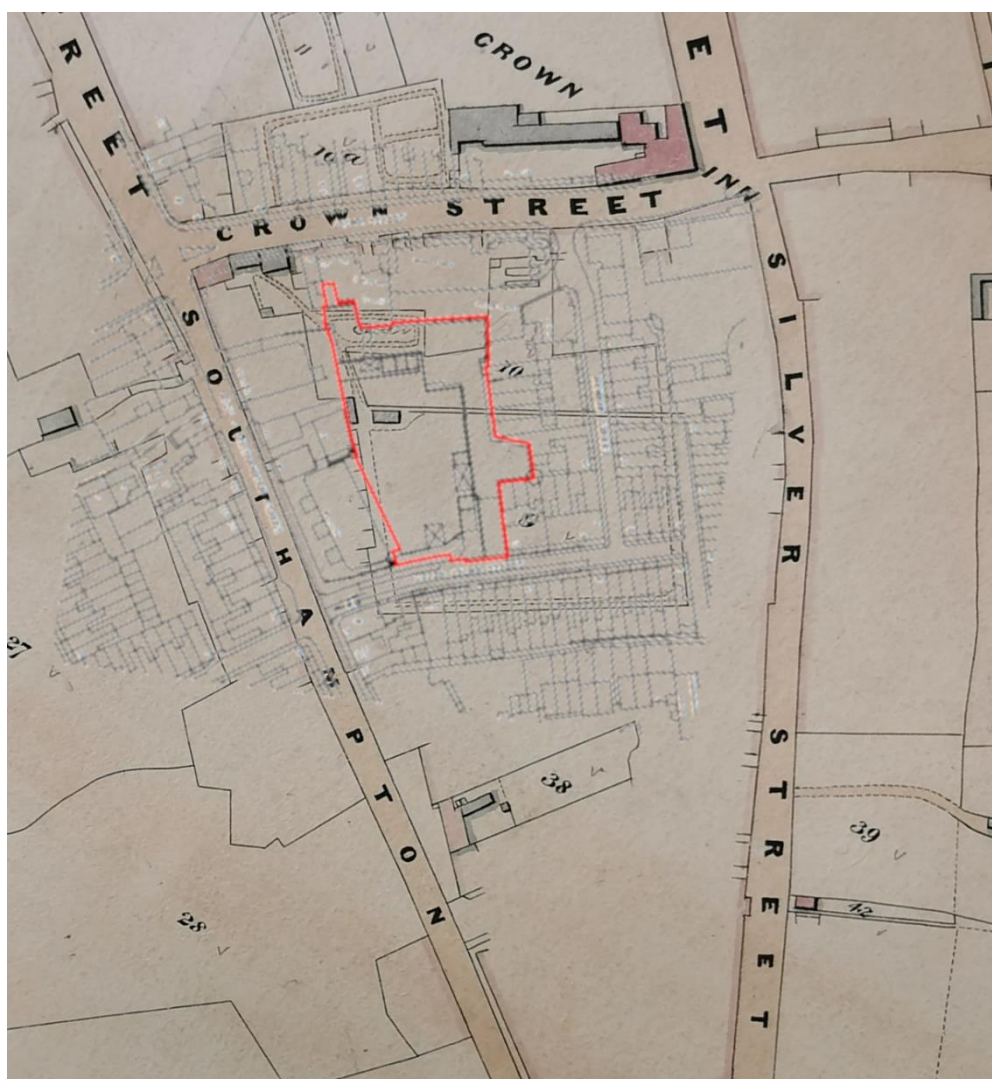

Figure 6: Map of the Parish of St Giles, Reading by W H Fuller, Reading
(image produced with permission from the Berkshire Record Office
(R/AS2/4/25))

Figure 7: Map of Reading by Reading Local Board of Health, 1853 (image produced with permission from the Berkshire Record Office (D/D1/96/1))

Figure 8: 25-inch Ordnance Survey map of Reading with the approximate extent of the current Site highlighted in red (surveyed: 1875, published: 1879, Berkshire XXXVII.3).

Figure 9: 25-inch Ordnance Survey map of Reading with the approximate extent of the current Site highlighted in red. (Revised: 1931, published: 1934, Berkshire XXXVII.3).

Figure 10: Red line boundary map overlaying the 1931 Ordinance Survey map (Red line boundary map reproduced with kind permission from Colony Architects)