External Wall Insulation Products

Whatever types of property you have in your portfolio, K Rend have an External Wall Insulation system to meet your requirements. Our range of EWI systems offer the flexibility and technological benefits of three insulation choices, combined with a wide range of aesthetic finishes.

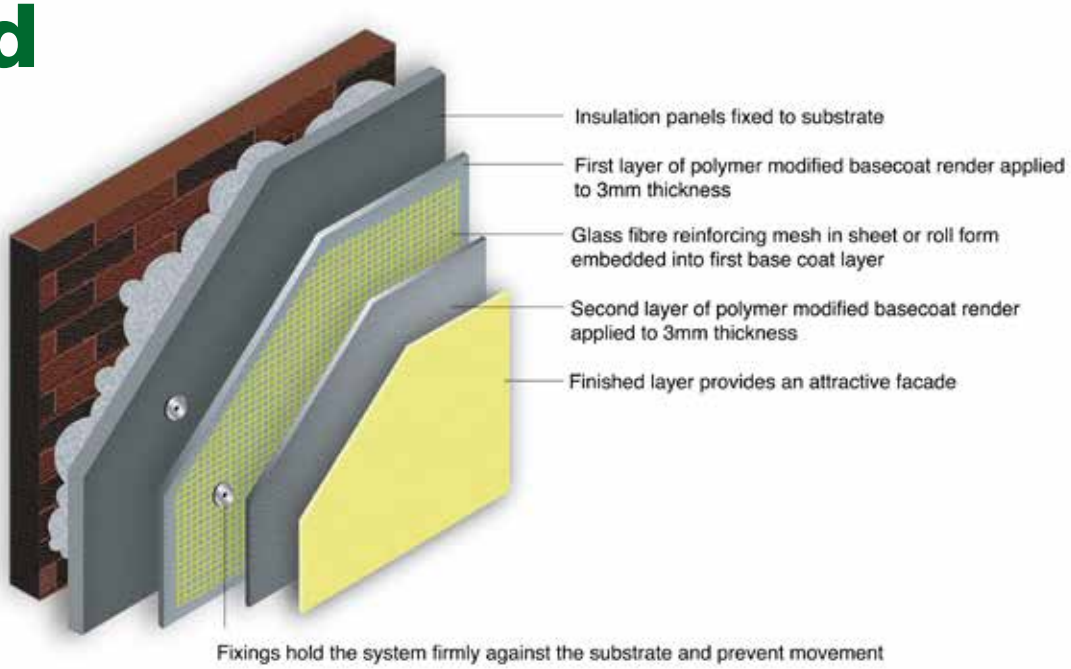
The systems:

K Therm Silicone Range:
Utilises a silicone based, thin, coat top coat render in a variety of grain sizes (1.5mm or 3mm) allowing various surface texture options. Available in a range of over 340 standard colours, with a colour matching and mixing service where required.

K Therm Acrylic Range:
Utilises an acrylic based, thin, top coat render in a variety of grain sizes (1.5mm or 3mm) allowing various surface texture options. Available in a range of over 340 standard colours, with a colour matching and mixing service where required.

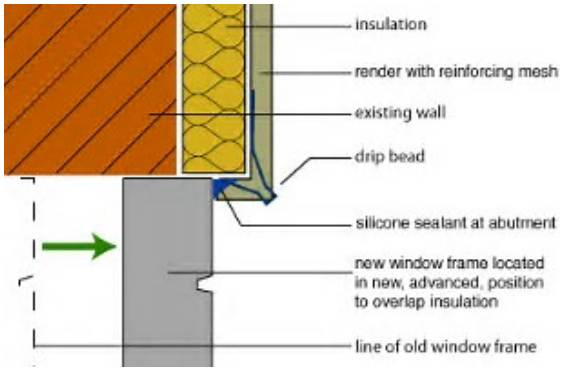
K Therm Dash Range:
A Range of over 30 silicone based dash receiving renders and aggregates, which give a hard-wearing, waterproof traditional finish.

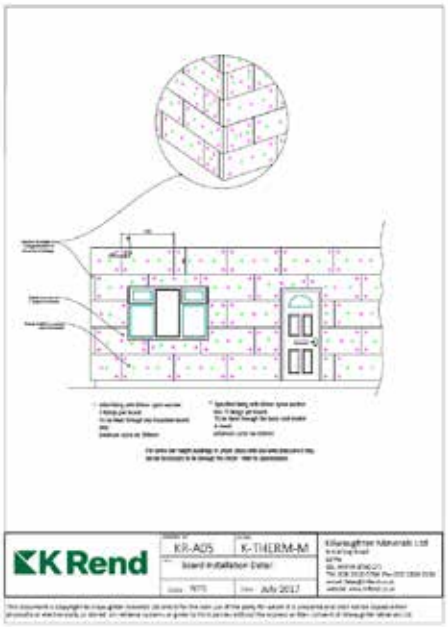
K Therm Brick Rend Range:
A two coat render system in any combination of 20 standard colours, used as the mortar colour and brick / stone colour choice. Typically used as an alternative to new brick or stone work, or to highlight details features e.g. quoins, windows cill and door head details.



Typical System Build Up:

The systems incorporate three different insulation materials, enhanced polystyrene (E), phenolic foam (P) or mineral fibre (M). These insulation products can be supplied in thickness of 60mm – 200mm, allowing the selection of the most appropriate insulation to achieve the client's requirements in terms of fire performance, zoning and cost effectiveness.





Standard detail drawings available upon request.
