Dear Mrs Butt

re: 177, 177a and 179 Oxford Road, Reading

Thank you for your letter dated 19 November 2008. Please accept my apologies for the delay in responding to you.

Thank you for pointing out the inaccuracies in the list description for 171-177 Oxford Road, Reading. As far as we are concerned the buildings which are statutorily listed are those covered by the address of the list description which is 171-177 Oxford Road. It would be safe to say that where no. 179 has been mentioned in the list description is incorrect, however, for the Heritage Protection Department to carry out a full amendment would mean considerable resource implications involving a complete revision of the list entry for all the buildings, with full notifications to all owners and advice to the Secretary of State.

Therefore, please take this letter as confirmation that nos 177a and 179 are not included on the list entry for 171-177 Oxford Road and are not listed. We have copied this to the Planning Department at Reading Borough Council for their information.

I hope this is helpful.

Yours sincerely

Louise Campbell
